GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 38. GREENSBORO, N. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1900. Price Five Cents

FUNDS FOR STORM SUFFERERS.

TELEGRAM WILL FORWARD THEM.

Suffering by Famine and Thirst Now Parallel That by Wind and Flood, in Which 3,000 Lives Were Lost—35,000 People at the Mercy of Charity.

The unparalled disaster of Sunday, when the storm god in all his fury sent wind and wave and swept away the beautiful city of Galveston, taking the lives of over 3,000, has aroused the sympathy of the people of the country. But the after scenes, if possible, are more horrible than the first. The press dispatches say that fully 35,000 people are dependent upon help sent in from the outside. All the provisions in the city were destroyed by the salt water, and the population that was left is making every effort to avert pestilence by removing as fast as possible the dead bodies.

Bureaus of help are being established all over the country. A gentleman has suggested that the people of Greensboro will like to contribute, at least small amounts, to the relief fund. The Telegram will accept, receipt for, and forward all donations, and make acknowledgement of them in this column. Who will help? Any amounts will be received. So far one subscription has been handed in:

Dr. E. L. Stamey.....$ 5 00

The Mayor of Galveston has issued the following card:

"A conservative estimate of the loss of life is that it will reach 3,000; at least 5,000 families are shelterless and wholly destitute. The entire remainder of the population is suffering in greater or less degree. Not a single church, school or charitable institution of which Galveston had so many, is left intact. Not a building escaped damage and half the whole number were entirely obliterated. There is immedite need for food, clothing and household goods of all kinds. If nearby cities will open asylums for women and children the situation will be greatly relieved. Coast cities should send us water as well as provisions, including kerosene oil, gasoline and candles."

THE NEW YORK TICKET.

Senator Murphy Tells Who is to be Nominated, and Croker O. K's. It.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Saratoga, Sept. 12.—Ex-Senator Murphy at ten this morning gave out the following ticket which he said if nothing happened would be nominated. Croker said he guessed that the ticket was all right. It is: Governor, Stanchfield; lieutenant governor, Mackey; secretary of state, Morton, of Troy; comptroller, Atwater, of Poughkeepsie; attorney general, Thomas F. Conway, of Clinton; state engineer, Russell Stewart, of Syracuse. It was announced at eleven o'clock that Hill would make a speech nominating Coler.

The convention assembled at 11:40 and the appearance of Hill caused a demonstration. On a contest Hill's delegates were defeated by a vote of 29 to 19.

No Uneasiness at the Greensboro Female College.

The drought is causing no uneasiness at Greensboro Female College, so far as a water supply is concerned. A deep well furnishes an abundance of water, and in addition to this an old spring on the campus has been cleaned out and put in good condition. For many years this spring supplied all the water used at the college, but of late it has not been in use. The water is pure, clear as crystal and very cold.

Texas Storm in New York.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Sept. 12.—The storm which spead death in Texas after going northeast, swerved east, and is now sweeping through New York State. At Buffalo early this morning the wind was traveling seventy-two miles an hour, and small wrecks scattered the Canadian and American shares of Lake Erie.

STOLE A HORSE AND BUGGY.

Wheeler Brothers, liverymen, are minus a good horse and buggy today. Last night a white man giving his name as Coleman called at their stables and hired a horse and buggy for an hour's drive, saying he wished to go out beyond Warnersville. Failing to return, the Messrs. Wheeler concluded that the man, who was an entire stranger to them, had stolen their property.

This morning it was ascertained that a man answering his description was in Graham, having traded a horse and attempted to sell a buggy. The sheriff of Alamance county was telegraphed to arrest and hold the man on suspicion, but at last accounts he had not been apprehended. Mr. Carl Wheeler went to Graham this afternoon to identify the thief and the horse and buggy.

LATER.—A message from Graham shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon stated that Coleman had been arrested and was in jail at that place.

THE VALUE OF PROPERTY.

Evidence Before Judge Shepherd to Show That Property is Not Assessed at its Full Value.

The hearing in the tax assessment case is still proceeding. Eleven witnesses were examined before the adjournment of court yesterday afternoon and a number have been on the stand today. It was shown that in some instances there existed a rule for the assessment of private property at from two-thirds to three-fourths of the actual value.

Mr. G. G. Hendricks, clerk of the Superior Court of Randolph county, testified this afternoon that, while there was no rule for the assessment of property in Randolph, it was usually assessed at less than its real value. He cited a number of instances where property had sold for a great deal more than the amount for which it was assessed. He also recalled several sales that had been made at less than the assessed valuation.

The hearing will probably consume the remainder of the week.

THE BANNER TOWNSHIP.

South Rock Creek Makes the Greatest Proportionate Gain.

South Rock Creek is the banner Democratic township in Guilford county, having made a greater proportionate gain over the election of 1898 than any other township in the county The Central Executive Committee has unanimously awarded the banner, which is beautifully made of silk, to South Rock Creek. It will be presented after the opening of the coming campaign.

Mr. J. D Oldham, of Whitsett, is the active precinct chairman, and to his efforts is due much of the gain.

South Jefferson precinct, under the chairmanship of Mr. W. H McLean, made the second largest gain, North Rock Creek, under the leadership of Mr. J. A. Coble, coming third.

ELECTRIC POWER.

Suggested That it is an Opportune Time to Install a Plant.

It has been suggested that the present would be a most opportune time for some concern to install a plant in Greensboro for the purpose of furnishing electric power to manufacturing plants and other enterprises. The need of this power has been felt for years, and were it to be installed it would be used by a great many people.

Where electric power is in use small manufactories are encouraged, as it enables them to operate at a greatly reduced expense.

It is the general understanding that the city will furnish electric power when it purchases the lighting plant.

Don't Take Their Own Medicine.

It is said that there are physicians who would not take medicine they prescribe for others. Apparently the divine healer, Dr. Gilbert, and his ministerial associate belong to this class. The latter was up street this morning looking for a doctor to attend his sick child.

DEAD NUMBER 4,500.

RIOTINGS ADD TO DESOLATION.

CONFLICT OF WHITES AND BLACKS.

The Lawless Negroes are Making Trouble and Robbing the Dead, and Have Even Driven Rescuing Parties From Their Work--About Three Thousand Dead Have Been Disposed of—Burning the Debris in the Hope of Averting Pestilence--Fifty Negroes Shot.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Houston, Sept. 12.—A message from Galveston tells of rioting between the blacks and whites, which adds innumerable horrors to these already desosolating the city. Conflicts between unruly negroes and law abiding citizens occur constantly.

Fifty negroes have been shot, most of them found robbing the dead. Gangs of blacks have in many cases driven rescuing whites away from their work. Vigilance committees are being formed. Two thousand, three hundred and fifty bodies have already been carried on barges and dumped into the Gulf. Two hundred bodies have been buried at Virginia Point, and hundreds have been buried at other points along the coast.

Scores of bodies are coming ashore at Virginia Point. The dead bodies are still stifling the streets of Galveston. A heavy pall of smoke over the city this morning tells the fact that the debris has been set on fire, and the ruins burned in the hope of quelling the pestilence.

TOTAL DEAD FOUR THOUSAND, FIVE HUNDRED.

Galveston, Sept. 12.—A conservative estimate this morning says the total number of the Galveston dead will reach 4,500. The work of recovering bodies was resumed at dawn. Four fifths of the victims were women and children. Men were able to breast the rushing water and withstand wind, but the women and children could make no headway.

A SPLENDID OPENING.

Greensboro Female College Begins the Fall Term Most Auspiciously.

The fall term of Greensboro Female College opened today under most auspicious circumstances The attendance was very gratifying, being 15 or 20 more than last year. The boarders in the institution today number 75, a large percentage of whom are new students. A number of others will arrive before the end of the week.

The opening exercises this morning were attended by a number of the friends of the institution. Among the visitors were Rev. Messrs. F. H. Wood, J. C. Rowe, L. Johnson, C. E. Hodgin and T. M. Johnson, all of whom made short talks.

The regular work of the term will not begin until Friday, today and tomorrow being taken up with entrance, examinations, etc.

Who Should Furnish the Link?

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I see in your issue of yesterday that "Citizen" admits the correctness of the chain idea as applied to the waterworks, and suggests as a remedy, mending the chain. In the case of the waterworks the link seems to be entirely missing, but I hear it is to be supplied by building storage reservoirs. At whose expense, may I ask? Nobody claims that the present water plant is worth anything like $87,500 without water. Then it seems but fair that if storage reservoirs are needed to insure a constant water supply they should be put in by the owners before offering it to the city. Let them supply the missing link?

And by the way, if reservoirs are necessary to enable the water company to furnish the protection against fire for which the city is paying, and they have failed so far to provide them, are they not legally liable for all loss or damage which may arise from their negligence.

"TAXPAYER."

GOOD ROADS ESSAY PRIZES.

Some time ago Mr. C. G. Wright, president of the Greensboro Publishing Co., offered thirty dollars in prizes for the best essays on the subject of good roads, the essays to be written under certain considerations set forth in the offer by persons living outside the city. The competition has just been decided, and the winners are as follows:

1st prize $10, on east side, won by C. M. Hunter.

The article judged third in excellence, was written by Mr. C. W. Willis of Guilford college, but won no prize because the prizes were to go on the west side and the east side of the county respectively.

THE DIVINE HEALER LEAVES TOWN.

A Week in Greensboro Was Enough for Him and "Brother Sutton."

The divine healer has forsaken this wicked city, he and his associate, Rev. Mr Sutton, having closed their performance. From the farewell remarks at the service last night one would infer that their stay in Greensboro was not very remunerative. A week of it was enough, and after speaking nightly to a small and mixed crowd and "demonstrating" a little, they felt called to go in search of pastures new.

Last night, while Dr. Gilbert spoke to the people of the many wonderful works he had done, "Brother Sutton" passed through the crowd with a collection basket into which a few pennies jingled. It is said that not enough money was secured to pay their board bill while here, and this probably influenced them in taking an early departure.

THE BAND'S CONCERT.

The First to be Given Monday Night. Tickets on Sale.

The Gate City Band will give the first concert of its Popular Entertainment Course in the Academy of Music next Monday night. In all there will be six concerts, on the following dates: September 17th, October 25th, November 19th. December 17th, January 17th and February 11th.

The band will render a variety of music at each of the concerts, such as will please all classes of people. The public may be assured of as high a class of entertainments as has ever been given in Greensboro.

Tickets good for the entire course are sold at $1 each. They may be secured from any member of the band.

WITH LIGHTNING MOTION.

A Negro Cook Who is an Expert in Killing and Cleaning Chickens.

The negro cook at the Al. G. Fields minstrel car is the crack chicen picker in this part of the country just at present. He came out of the car about noon today and slaughtered a dozen of the favorite fowls almost in less time than it takes to tell it. He then brought out a bucket of hot water, and then he began to attract attention. He would drop two chickens into the bucket at once, pull them out, give each a few rolls in his hand, and there they were—clean. The dozen were picked in less than five minutes, and when "Sambo" finished his little task he was the unconcerned center of attraction for a considerable crowd of onlookers.

Revial Meeting at the Baptist Church.

It was announced at the union prayer meeting in West Washington Street Baptist church last night that Rev. T. T. Martin, of Missouri, would begin a series of special services in that church next Sunday. The meeting will continue through the week. The members of the various churches in the city are cordially invited to attend and co-operate.

THE UNION PRAYER MEETING.

THE SERVICE A SPIRITUAL FEAST.

Began by Praying for Rain, but Developed Into Prayers for Relief From the Spiritual Drought in Greensboro—Service Participated in by Ministers and Laymen—The Attendance Not So Great as if More Notice Had Been Given.

The union prayer meeting in West Washington Street Baptist church last night, called for the purpose of praying for rain, was very well attended. The church was nearly filled, people of all denominations being present. The attendance would have been greater had the notice not been so short.

The meeting was held under the auspices of several of the city pastors and was participated in by a number of laymen. Considerable interest was exhibited, and it is felt that the service was productive of good.

A SPIRITUAL FEAST.

Reported for The Telegram.

Such a meeting as was held last night should not pass without notice. Under the circumstances the attendance was surprisingly large. Numbers failed to see the notice in the papers, who would have been present had they known of it. Dr. J. C. Rowe led the meeting. There were a half dozen prayers and talks, from pastors and laymen.

At first the prayers were especially for temporal blessings, but as naturally as the unfolding of a flower, the spirit of the meeting bloomed out into a desire for larger and more important blessings. Our thoughts were turned to the spiritual drought that prevails in Greensboro, and we prayed for showers of spiritual blessings. Long beyond the time usually given to prayer meetings, we lingered before the throne, but no one became weary. All felt that it was good to be there.

It was, in many respects, the most extraordinary meeting that I have ever attended. The spiritual power and the feeling of Christian fellowship was something remarkable.

It was suggested that at the prayer meetings tonight the special object of prayer be continued; that is pray for rain and also for showers of spiritual blessings.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock there will be another union meeting at Washington Street church, to which all Christians are invited. Should rain come before that time, we will make it a thanksgiving meeting.

We, as a people, may not be in proper condition to receive the rain, but surely such a meeting as we had last night is an inestimable blessing to any community. LIVINGSTON JOHNSON.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

The following dialogue between two leading citizens of the water works pond was overheard by one of the many visitors who went out yesterday to view the scene:

First Bullfrog, (happening to meet a neighbor while walking down the sluice)—"Hello, Bill, you look mighty cheerful considering this terrible drought."

Second Bullfrog—"Well, the fact is my mother-in-law went off visiting yesterday up in the standpipe, and I think she will never be able to get back. But you look rather gay yourself. What is it?"

First Bullfrog—"Why, somebody came along and stopped up my mother-in-law's front door with a big piece of mud. The sun dried it so she can't get out."

First and Second Bullfrog in Chorus—Well this dry spell isn't so bad after all. OBSERVER.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

No one can justly blame (nor is any one attempting to do so) the officers of the water company, for they are doing all they can do under the circumstances to give the city water, but it is a trifle difficut to drive a ten-penny nail with a tack-hammer—in other words, the plant in question is a weak and delicate one that is sadly in need of nourishment sometimes called water, and lots of it. RESIDENT.

Mr. B. B. Smith will shortly commence the erection of a nice home on the corner of Gorrell and Martin streets.

SYMPATHY FOR GREENSBORO

RALEIGH FRIENDS EXPRESS IT.

The Opinion is That an Entirely New Source of Supply Should be Found—Artesian Wells—Mr. Simmons' Wife and Mother Sick—Judge Purnell Declares the Craig Law Unconstitutional.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 12.—The Populist District Convention here yesterday nominated J. J. Jenkins for Congress. It did some things which four years ago would have been considered unpopulistic. It actually didn't find fault with things, didn't "howl calamity," but adopted a platform setting forth, that during the past four years the volume of currency has increased and so have prices of products. It also favored commercial expansion, saying new markets for products are needed. It is said the Populists in their caucus favored the Middle-of-the-road National ticket.

Much sympathy is expressed for Chairman Simmons, whose venerable mother is very sick at the old homestead, in Jones county, while his wife is seriously ill here.

Much sympathy is expressed for the people of Greensboro on account of their water famine. It is the current opinion here that an entirely new source of supply ought to be found. Some are asking whether artesian wells can be made a success there. If deep enough and free flowing, they are ideal. The water is in fact better than cistern water. Such is the experience of the town of Beaufort.

In the course of a chat with one of the three rural mail delivery carriers here, he said his daily route was thirty miles, and he makes it in eight hours. Farmers get far more mail than they send. He averages one-hundred papers and letters daily for distribution, and about twelve letters in collections. But there will be an increase, no doubt, of letter writing when the farmers catch on.

Prof. W. F. Massey, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, tells me there are far too few students entered in the agricultural department of the college. Nearly all the students are farmers' sons, and the farmers it seems send them there to learn the mechanic arts; in other words, want them to be something else besides farmers. The State needs trained mechanics, but it sorely needs trained farmers.

A farmer, who was here yesterday, sold three bales of cotton for $150. Two years ago he sold five for $100. He says if prices keep up he will be more than recouped for his loss by the short crop.

B. F. Montague resigned last night, as chairman of the trustees of the Blind Institution here, and Thomas B. Womock was elected to succeed him.

Mr. Franklin Sherman, of Virginia, arrived here today to take charge of the duties of botanist and antonologist to the State crop pest commission. The Board of Agriculture recently appointed a committee to secure a botanist and antonologist and Mr. Sherman was its choice.

Great regret is expressed by Masons here at the death of Past Grand Horace H. Munson, of Wilmington, who has for many years been one of the most devoted members of that great order in this State.

J. H. Pou, Esq., is at Goldsboro acting solicitor for his brother Edward, who has erysipelas. He says his brother is very sick, but not dangerously so; that he has two carbuncles on his forehead, and that erysipelas is all over his face.

Postoffice Inspector Jere Conolly left here yesterday for Fayetteville to appear against J. L. York, of "moneraline" fame, who is to be tried today on the charge of using the mails in a most outrageous swindling scheme.

The Corporation Commission calls for a statement by the banks under its jurisdiction, up to the close of business September 5.

The scarcity of negro farm labor grows daily greater in this county and indeed in this section. One result of the great falling off of this labor will be the planting of smaller crops. It is well known that most of the cotton growers have been in the habit of planting really more cotton than they could pick and of depending on pick-up labor to gather it.

Judge Purnell decides in the United States District Court here that the Craig law is unconstitutional, null and void, for the simple reason that any law enacted by a Legislature affecting the jurisdiction of a Federal Court is unconstitutional, even though the act state its intention to be otherwise. In the case of the Craig law it was confessedly enacted for the purpose of preventing, or trying to prevent, the transfer of suits from State to Federal Courts. It is also well known that it was intended as a "swipe" at the Southern Railway, but had to be made sweeping as it could not particularize.

On the 24th of next month which will be during the State Fair, a meeting of the North Carolina Tobacco Growers Association will be held here. It is called by J. Bryan Grimes, the president of the association.

Final action as to the auditorium site here is postponed until September 20th. One man favors the use of one of the two parks in the city for the building. Only the Legislature can give such permission and it certainly ought never to be given. The parks should be preserved as they are. There were originally five parks or squares. On one is the capitol, on another the institute for the white blind and on a third the executive mansion. Now Nash and Moore squares are the only ones left for use really as parks.

How to Have Genius Rewarded.

The artist was bewailing his luck.

"My paintings are gems," he said. "Even the critics admit that, but I can't get any prices for them."

"Of course not," returned the man of business. "You see, the trouble with you is that you are alive, and genius is rewarded only after death. Now, if you could arrange to die"—

"But how could I profit by that?" demanded the artist.

"Let me finish," said the man of business. "If you could arrange to die temporarily, your fortune would be made. Just make me the executor of your estate, drop out of sight for awhile and you will have both fame and money. The trouble with you artists is that you have no head for business. Now the moment you are gone you will be written up and lauded, and all the pathos of your struggle for recognition will be brought out, and people will just fall over themselves to get your paintings. Just give me a chance to kill you off, and I'll have you rolling in wealth."—Chicago Post.

DISPENSARY LONG IN ADVANCE.

Results of the Second Primary Show That the Dispensary Candidate Leads the Prohibition One by a Big Majority. Legislature for the Dispensary by Two-Thirds.

Columbia, S. C. Sept. 11.—The second Democratic primary passed off without incident today. There were about 80,000 votes cast, and 61,000 have been accounted for. In the first primary, two weeks ago, the race was narrowed down to the two highest candidates for each office. For Governor the incumbent, Miles B. McSweeney, then lead Colonel James A. Hoyt by 5,000 votes. Two other candidates received 20,000. The bulk seems to have gone to McSweeney today, for returns tonight show him to be 7,300 votes ahead of Hoyt, with his lead increasing as rural districts are heard from.

James H. Tillman, nephew of Senator B. R Tillman, and a dispensary advocate, leads John T. Sloan for Lieutenant Governor, by 10,000. W. D. Evans, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, and vice president of the national commission, is beaten by J. H. Wharton by 10,000.

This State's delegation in Congress is strenghthened by the election of R. B. Scarborough, over James Norton, and Joe T. Johnson over Stanyarne Wilson, by large majorities. Scarborough is present Lieutenant Governor, and Johnson is a recognized leader. Finley and Latimer retain their seats in Congress over all competitors.

Timmerman, State Treasurer, is beaten even by Jennings. Otherwise, the present administration is unchanged after a preliminary canvass from county to county.

The race for Governor has been especially warm. The dispensary was the issue. Last December the dispensary directors fell out among themselves and scandals were aired. Opposition to the dispensary was strong. When the campaign was opened the prohibitionists and other enemies of the dispensary selected Colonel James A. Hoyt to lead the fight against the dispensary. There were three dispensary candidates and Governor McSweeney was in the first primary selected to fight it out with Hoyt.

The result on the main issue is that the Legislature is for the dispensary by two-thirds, McSweeney will receive 10,000 majority and Tillman goes back to the United States Senate, although 18,000 scratched his name on the ticket and he had no opponent. Colonel Hoyt, the defeated candidate, is a Confederate veteran, was chairman of the State Democracy, president of the Baptist convention several terms and grand master of the Masonic Lodge. McSweeney is a printer, was Lieutenant Governor, and became Governor on the death of W. H. Ellerbe.

THE AFTER HORRORS.

Worse Than Those of Sunday—The Dead Stripped of Jewelry and Stores Looted—The Ground Too Full of Water to Permit Burying the Corpses—Nobody to Put Them on Barges For Burial at Sea.

Houston, Texas Sept. 11.—News brought here by the tugboat Brunswick last night, says that the horrors of Sunday were nothing compared with Monday. An attempt was made to bury the dead, but the ground was full of water and it was impossible to dig trenches. Alderman McMaster and M. P. Morrissey secured authority to have the bodies taken to sea for burial and a barge was brought up the Twelfth street wharf for the purpose. The firemen rendered heroic service in bringing the bodies to the wharf, but it was almost impossible to get men to handle them.

During the storm and afterwards a great deal of looting was done. Many stores had been closed, their owners leaving to look after their families. The wind forced in the windows and left goods a prey for the marauders. Bands of toughs stripped dead bodies of jewelry and articles of value. Captain Rafferty, commanding United States troops here, was applied to for help and he sent in 70 men, the remnant of the battery of artillery, to do police duty. They are patrolling the streets under direction of the chief of police.

An urgent appeal to the outside world was issued and those who respond are asked to send contributions to John Sealey, chairman of the finance committee; W. C. Jones, mayor; M. Lasket, president of the Island City Savings Bank; J. D. Skinner, Galveston Cotton Exchange; C. M. McMaster, Galveston Chamber of Commerce; R. W. Lowe, manager Galveston News, or Clarence Ousley, manager Galveston Tribune.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, a meeting of prominent citizens was held at the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of organizing for the relief of the suffering and to bury the dead. A burial committee was appointed charged with collecting and burying the bodies of all dead. Inquests will be dispensed with.

Let In the Light.

Light, air and sunlight are important factors in keeping the family and the house in a healthy condition. Nothing could be worse than the habit some people have of keeping the house in darkness from early morning until night. The house should be flooded with light and air for several hours each day.—Ladies' Home Journal.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely in face form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. THE ACME OF PERFECTION

IN BOYS' CLOTHING IS THE

"Grindstone Brand"

Which is superior to any other make on the market. The pants are made with double seats and knees: that is, the material from which they are made is doubled in the seat and knees. The manufacturers of the "Grindstone Brand" do not put in lining and call them double seat and knee pants, as manufacturers of some other pants do. The coat is neat and nobby--double-breasted and square cut. These suits are wear resisting and just the thing for strong, growing manly boys. They will wear longer, look better and give better service in every respect than any other line of boys' clothing made.

We have these suits in all colors for boys from 4 to 17 years of age. Bring or send your boy to us and have him fitted up for the fall and winter. Each suit has a "Grindstone" button in the lapel of the coat and a good knife in the pocket. These are not sold, but given as a present to the boys.

ALONG THE LINE OF THE SOUTHERN

As a text for an editorial on Southern progress the Richmond Times takes the report of the Southern Railway for the year ending June 30, 1900. That report shows the following financial statement:

Gross earnings from operation, 1900, $31,200,869.89; 1899, $25,353,686.07; increase, $5,847,183.82.

Operating expenses and taxes, 1900, $21,831,446.86; 1899, $17,356,355.37; increase, $4,175,091.49.

Interest and rentals, 1900, $6,755,-442.30; 1899, $6,207,252 80; increase $548,189.50.

Other deductions from income, 1900, $15,534 71; 1899, $24,028 23; decrease, $8,493 52.

The company paid during the year a three per cent. dividend on its preferred stock and carried $1,117,251,50 to its profit and loss account.

The balance standing at credit of profit and loss on June 30, 1889, was $2,336,563 88.

The balance standing at the credit of that account on June 30, 1900, was $3,510,801.86.

Six years ago the old Richmond and Danville Railroad, the parent road of the Southern, was in a condition of insolvency, and now the Southern is making magnificent profits, as shown above. The Times thinks it is due to the rapid progress of the South along the line of the Company. The report referred to above says that along the line of the road last year 514 manufacturing industries and plants were completed and began operations. Among them were these:

Twenty-seven new cotton mills began operations, equipped with 4,498 looms and 220,158 spindles, and having a combined authorized capital of $3,440,000.

The equipment of old cotton mills was increased by the addition of 9,449 looms and 287,021 spindles, the improvements having an estimated value of $9,065,325.

The total increase during the year in the capacity of active cotton mills tributary to this company's lines was, therefore, 13,947 looms and 507,179 spindles, the additional capital invested being about $12,500,000.

Twenty-one knitting mills began operations with estimated capital of $594.000.

A new steel mill at Ensley, Ala., capital $1,000,000.

A new wire and rod mill at Ensley, Ala., capital $2,000,000.

An iron pipe plant, North Birmingham, Ala., capital $175,000.

Fourteen pig-iron furnaces went into blast.

In addition to these 449 miscellaneous industries were established and put in operation during the year, among which may be mentioned thirty-nine furniture factories, thirty woodworking plants, sixty-six lumber mills, twenty cotton seed oil mills, twenty-nine mills and seven canneries.

Greensboro has never been so vitally interested in anything as she is in the matter of water. Of course there's nothing to do at present but to wait for rain. The future is what must be looked after. People don't want this thing to ever occur again. The columns of The Telegram are open to the discussion of the question.

OLNEY ABOUT THE RIGHT THING.

We have not regarded as of any consequence whatever the shifting of party associations by such types of men as Webster Davis, Senator Wellington and Carl Schurz, or any others who are accustomed to trim sail to popular breezes. But when the Honorable Richard Olney aligned himself with the Democratic forces, we expected to see him give some adequate reason for so doing. That expectation was not disappointed. When Mr. Olney's letter came out it carried none of the usual political rant of the day, much of which is sorely disgusting. Mr. Olney puts himself in line with those of his countrymen who hold it a duty to choose the less disagreeable course, and gives his reason for that selection without hesitation. With the exception of Mr. Olney's probable opinion on expansion his views are exactly those which The Telegram has tried to express from time to time.

From the letter we copy some sentences which show Mr. Olney's position:

I need hardly say that Mr. Bryan is not the candidate I should choose could I have my way in the matter and that I entirely dissent from parts of the Kansas City platform; but the citizen must seek the best practical results through the best legitimate practical methods as are available.

Be it admitted that the Democratic party, its platform and its candidate are open to much criticism, yet, all things considered, would not its triumph be the best outcome of the presidential contest.

* * * *

Approval of the administration would mean that the American people sanction a syndicate presidency—a presidency got for the Republican party by the money of a combination of capitalists intent on securing legislation in aid of their particular interests. It would mean approval of a long list of policies which are arraigned in the letter as comprehended under McKinleyism, including especially "the policy of greed and contempt for alien peoples" and the various evils resulting therefrom.

* * * *

It will mean that the American people either do not see or seeing approve the great and growing, if not already overwhelming influence of money in our politics. Our government was not conceived or framed as a money making machine even for the profit of all the governed—much less for the profit of particular classes or portions of the governed. Its vital principle and its crowning merit are that it stands for equal opportunities to all—that by the maintenance of order and the administration of justice it is designed to give every man a free hand in the struggle for the prizes of life. This theory of the true functions of government McKinleyism directly and antagonizes—by protective tariffs, by the most intimate relations between the United States Treasury and the general money market, by subsidies to particular indnstries, by an aggressive colonial policy, and in other ways it practically holds out the government as an engine for use in the acquisition of private wealth. The natural, the evitable result is that the money of the country hotly pursues the control of the government as the source of more money—that the flag figures as a sort of commercial asset, replete with possibilities of pecuniary profit for its fortunate custodians. That under the influence of McKinleyism such is the unmistakable trend of things in this country at the present day, giving to the best devised policy of all times somewhat the aspect of a stock-jobbing democracy is only too apparent. Should McKinleyism now again prevail, for example, it will not be because it is not cordially distrusted and disliked by the great body of American electors. It will be because of the influence of the purse and of the felicitous application of an enormous campaign fund—because of an 'investment scare,' which, if in some measure genuine, will be in much larger measure artfully worked up for election ends. To excite the alarm of voters for their immediate pecuniary interests is easy; to evoke patriotism, courage and unselfishness required to effect serious political changes and indispensable to dislodge a party which, comparatively short intervals excepted, has been intrenching itself in the government for nearly forty years, is infinitely more difficult.

Mr. Olney knows very clearly why he prefers Bryan to McKinley. He hits the nail squarely on the head. He deliberately takes the chances of all the ills attributed to Mr. Bryan, and, granting them all, prefers them to the greater evil attendant upon a re-election of McKinley. Mr. Olney does not say that Mr. Bryan is the greatest man the world has produced, he does not even say that the Lord has raised him up to save the people. But he does say, and truly, that the fundamental principle of Americanism is jeopardized by Mr. McKinley's re-election and that this is a greater question than such surface ones as he currency, and he therefore takes his stand with the party that opposes the supremacy of special privileges. Mr. Olney is good enough Democrat for all purpose. His democracy will wear well.

THE TELEGRAM ABROAD.

The management of The Telegram takes the liberty of making a few short extracts from late private letters, not as a matter of egotism at all, but merely to show its readers that its effort to make a clean, live paper that has a policy and lives up to it, in Greensboro, and more especially its course lately, is being watched and commended by its friends abroad as well as in the city. The extracts are:

From a leading educator: "You are making a splendid paper of The Telegram; it is the best afternoon daily in North Carolina now, and is constantly growing better."

From another well known editor: "You are doing the work. * * It is making The Telegram a power in the land."

Another editor writes: "I purchased and have on file your last Saturday's paper because of your editorial on"

From another editor: "You keep The Telegram humming. It is always a welcome visitor here."

Another editor says: "I write to say how much I appreciate your bold expression on"

The Biblical Recorder this week says: The Greensboro Telegram, one of the most aggressive and admirable papers in the State, is conducting a policy looking to the inauguration of a compulsory system of education in North Carolina.

Mr. McKinley having at last accepted the nomination, the question now is, what shall it profit him?

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

Mr. Campbell's Legal Adventure.

Robert J. Campbell of New York had an odd and even awkward experience one day which illustrates forcibly a peculiar phase in the practice of law in the metropolis. Returning home late at night, he was attacked and severely beaten by a drunken stranger. To allay the apprehension of his family Mr. Campbell explained that he had been struck by a street car. He was put to bed and a maid sent out for liniment and bandages. She returned with a strange doctor, who proceeded at once to make a minute examination.

The examination disclosed that the patient was suffering countless injuries, most of them incurable, to his spine, knees, thighs, shoulders and arms. Mr. Campbell, who knew how little he was hurt, was even alarmed by the result, and his family were thrown into almost senseless fear. The following day the doctor returned and announced that he was not a physician at all, but an "accident" lawyer—that is, one who sues corporations for damages resulting from physical injuries. He also brought with him several alleged witnesses to the street car accident, all of whom were willing to swear to anything for a consideration.—Saturday Evening Post.

How to Stuff Loin of Lamb.

Have the bones removed from between four and five pounds of lamb; wipe the meat well with a cloth wrung out of borax water, dry it and spread it out on a board. Make a stuffing with half a pound of fresh crumbed white bread, two ounces of lean boiled bacon which has been passed through a mincer, a teaspoonful of chopped onion and a tablespoonful of parsley; season with salt, pepper and a little grated nutmeg and add sufficient beaten egg to moisten the mixture. Spread it evenly over the meat; then roll it up neatly, tie it at intervals with fine white string to keep it in place and bake it in a well heaten oven, basting it frequently. Bake one hour. Surround by either thick or clear brown sauce and serve.

A Cruel Joke.

A Yale Summit girl recently played a cruel joke on her mother, and this is how it happened: She accidentally found a love letter that her father had written to her mother in the halycon days of their courtship. She read the letter to her mother, substituting her own name and that of her lover. The mother raved with anger and stamped her foot in disgust, forbidding her daughter to have anything to do with a man who would write such nonsensical stuff to a girl. The girl then gave the letter to her mother to read, and the house became so suddenly quiet that she could hear the cat winking in the back yard.—Saltsbury Press.

His Supposition.

A philanthropic lady of Pacific Heights, one of the sort of superior slum raisers shown up in "Fables In Slang," met on one of her tours a little boy who was swearing roundly. She seized him at once and gave him a good shaking, adding: "You ought to be ashamed of yourself! I never heard such language since the day I was born!" The boy into whose desolate home she had just been bringing light pulled himself loose. "Yes'm," he said, "I s'pose dere was a good deal o' cussin de day you was born."—San Francisco Wave.

ENOUGH OF THE "G. O. P."

Bishop Turner Denounces Republicans and Their Game.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 10.—Bishop H. M Turner, of the African Methodist Church, denies the report that he will take the stump in favor of the election of Mr. Bryan. In an interview he says:

"I am not a Democrat, and have no intention of stumping the country for Mr. Bryan. I dislike Mr. McKinley and the attitude which he has assumed toward the negro, and I intend to vote for Mr. Bryan in the belief that any change is better than none. This is no new change of heart for me. For sixteen years I have been cooling toward the Republican party; ever since the decision of the Supreme Court, which practically held that a negro has no civil rights. The Supreme Court has practically decitizened the negro, and has nullified the amendments to the Constitution. I do not know what Mr. Bryan's views are on these questions which effect the negroes, but I believe that he is a man of sufficient honesty to use his influence in behalf of right and justice.

"Mr. McKinley has done nothing for the negro except to appoint a few of them to office."

Suppress the Gentlemen Who Make a Specialty of Running Women Crazy.

Statesville Landmark.

We print in to-day's paper two accounts of religious fanaticism. One tells of a young lady who was made insane by hearing preached the doctrine of holiness—sometimes called the doctrine of sanctification or sinless perfection. It will be recalled that a year or two ago two young women in Alexander county lost their minds on this subject, as was alleged, and one of them was sent to the asylum. The other case is that of a boy in New Berne, who died of Christian science treatment; that is, no physician was allowed to see him and he suffered and died from neglect, all because his people believed in healing by faith. In the latter instance the law appears to be taking a hand and it is hoped that those responsible for the boy's death will be punished as they deserve. In the other case we don't know that the law can be applied, but some way should be found of suppressing the holiness preachers who make a specialty of running women crazy.

Bryan's Lesson from North Carolina.

Report of Mr. Bryan's Speech at Chicago Saturday.

With brief preliminary introductory remarks, Col. Bryan began an attack upon the present form of government, assailed the trusts, the single money standard, bank notes, a large standing army and imperialism. One auditor, when the speaker, talking of the disposition of the Philippines, inveighed against a system which would permit one class from ruling another, asked:

"How about the situation in North Carolina?"

Instantly the speaker replied: "Let the race qustion which has brought us so much trouble be a warning to you not to bring another race question into this country; and we do not have to go to North Carolina either, for we have it right here in Illinois and in Ohio."

Improvement Necessary.

Salisbury Sun.

An improvement of the present public school law will be necessary with the recent constitutional amendment. Whether there should be compulsory education or an increased tax levied for this purpose we are not prepared to say.

Relative to this the Greensboro Telegram finds out that thirty-one States have compulsory education; fifteen have not. Of the fifteen eleven are in the South.

No Paupers In Wichita.

The board of county commissioners of Wichita county, Kan., has just abolished the poorhouse, there being no more paupers in the county. One old soldier is the only dependent person in the county, and he is being cared for by popular subscription, so the county may be said to be pauperless. Ten years ago there were over 500 paupers in Wichita county, but the crops have been so large since then that everybody has made plenty of money. No tramps are allowed in the county. They must work or leave.

Maude—Oh, he always does. Marshmallows don't cost so very much, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—driven from the surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

Like Begets Like.

The Sin of the Parent.

SSS cures Contagious Blood Poison in any and all stages; contains no mineral to break down your constitution; it is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health.

Our little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure yourself at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 26.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.
Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhœa. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

GROWTH OF LANGUAGE.

Words Once Tabooed Are Likely to Become Suddenly Popular.

Language is being made so fast in these days that it is unsafe for purists to formulate lists of words that are unfit for polite use. A writer in the London Academy contends that many words rejected of the purists are really rough hewn stones that are necessary to fill crevices in the language and that the critic who would exclude them is ignorant of his calling. William Cullen Bryant's long list, published many years ago and widely consulted ever since, The Academy critic objects to as a bag filled with bones of contention and liable to rattle whenever it is touched.

The difficulty seems to be that while any reputable list of this kind is pretty sure to be authoritative in part evidence of use of forbidden words by some great author or some author of growing fame is likely to crop up at any time and put the seal of respectability upon any mongrel word that one has been accustomed to point the finger of scorn at. If you find Swift, Gray or other master employing a word that some picayune carper for verbal precision is trying to ostracize, you feel like associating with that word. Besides, some of these rude but healthy offshoots of the language are doing special duty and after proving their fitness for it will be just as fit for good verbal society as the rest.

What is the difference between an officer and an official? "Official" is nothing better than a lame cur of a word in the estimation of some people, but we are told now that it is perfectly proper, that it has its place; is, in fact, the square peg for the square hole. An "officer" is a man of recognized badges and known duties; an "official" is a man of more disguised and indefinite power. The work of society, the subdivision of labor, has been making this distinction, while you, in your ignorance, didn't know what was going on. An "officer" appears on parade ground or on deck in uniform; an "official" comes forth from a quiet office wearing a frock coat and top hat, and he can make you feel he is an official if you run up against that reserve power of which you see no outward manifestation in spurs or gold lace. General Miles is an "officer," John R. Rockefeller is an "official." Verbal purists should keep in mind the constant manufacture of distinctions that is going on.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Wolf Dog of the North.

Neck from head to shoulders a mass of bristling hair, sharp pointed ears, long snouted, lips snarling, fangs dripping, yelping rather than barking, wolfish of aspect and not nice to look upon when in anger—this is the husky, or wolf dog, of the north. Much has been said of the Klondike, but these magnificent brutes, which in the beginning made that frigid El Dorado possible, have received little more than passing comment.

They are far from humble, as their wild ancestry attests. They may be beaten into submission, but that will not prevent them still snarling their hatred. They may be starved into apparent docility and then die suddenly, with teeth fast locked in a brother's throat, torn to pieces by their comrades. Rather has little attention been accorded them because the interest of man has gravitated inexorably toward the natural, mineral and social features of that far northerly land.

But the husky is far from uninteresting. As a type of endurance no better product of natural selection need be sought. If ever a species has been born and bred of hard times, it has. Only the fittest in a hard struggle for existence extending through a thousand generations have survived. And they are well fit. Domesticated by the savage autochthons of that forbidding region, they may not only account their remote ancestors as wild wolves, but often their immediate forbears.—Harper's Weekly.

Society's Newest Toy.

The horseless carriage is society's newest toy. One secret of its success is its conspicuousness, for never was there such opportunity to sit up and look monarch of all creation as that front seat affords. Madame enthrones herself where the world may stare at her. Monsieur likewise feels the importance of his position and finds that steering a teakettle on rollers is more exhilarating than driving a $1,000 pair of trotters. For the time being the sensation has novelty to commend it, but of course this cannot last, and then it is wondered what will be the automobile's fate.—Boston Herald.

Loaded Cannon.

The city of St. Paul got one of the Spanish cannon captured in the war and set it up in front of the entrance to the city hall and courthouse. Later it was found to hold a charge of powder and ball, and, furthermore, it was trained at an angle that would plant the missile in the coping of a fine business block across the street. A number of these guns were given on application to cities in Pennsylvania, and at Bradford it was found upon examination that the gun was loaded. The shell was shot into an embankment and afterward dug out, as it did not explode.—Argonaut.

AVERTED A TRAGEDY.

Daniel O'Connell, the famous Irish agitator, had a contempt for physical danger. On a certain occasion a meeting had been convened, and a large crowd assembled in a room on the first floor of a building in a small city in Ireland.

O'Connell was about to address the people when a gentleman, pale with fear, made his way to the platform and hoarsely whispered:

"Liberator, the floor is giving way! The beams that shore it up are cracking, and we shall fall through in a few minutes!"

"Keep silent," said O'Connell. Then, raising his voice he addressed the assembly:

"I find that the room is too small to contain the number who desire to come in, so we must leave it and hold the meeting outside the building."

At this a few rose and went out, but the majority retained their seats. Then O'Connell said:

"I will tell you the truth. You are Irishmen, therefore brave men. The floor is giving way, and we must leave this room at once. If there is a panic and a rush to the door, we shall all be precipitated into the room below, but if you obey my orders we shall be saved. Let the 12 men nearest the door go quietly out, then the next 12, and so on till all have gone. I shall be the last to leave."

His instructions were obeyed to the letter, and he waited, patient and calm, till all had gone out in safety. Then he walked quietly across the sundering, cracking floor, reaching the door just as the shattered beams gave way. And thus, by the force of his strong will, a terrible accident was averted.—Exchange.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." THE TEA TRADE

Of this town is growing—at least OUR TRADE is growing in teas. We sell more now in one month than we used to in six. Possibly the good values for the money has had something to do with it. We have an excellent Ceylon and India Tea in packages for 60c pound—better grades of course, for 75, 90 and 1.00, while we have a fair grade of mixed tea at 40 and 50c pound.

STRAY ITEMS.

Rev. T. E. Wagg is slightly ill at his home on McCulloch street.

Have you helped the Gate City Band, and at the same time provided for your enjoyment, by securing a ticket to the band's course of entertainments?

In Charlotte yesterday afternoon the Quicksteps, of that city, won the State championship and $100 in gold over the Greensboro colored baseball team.

A returning soldier from the Philippine Islands was in the city today. He was stone deaf, having lost his hearing while doing service in the Far East.

The members of Field's minstrel troupe, which opens the season at the Academy of Music tonight, arrived this morning. They are traveling in a special car.

The special object of the prayer meeting at Westminster church tonight will be to pray for rain. All the members of the congregation are urged to attend.

That is a handsome display of boys' and men's suits in the south window at Merritt, Brower & Co's. Bishop Howlett was at his best when he did the decorating.

The Greensboro Loan and Trust Company is advertising for bids for the erection of its new building on South Elm street. Proposals will be received until September 24th.

For the past few days the water pressure has been too weak to properly run the generator at the Greensboro Telephone Exchange, and for this reason the service is somewhat impaired.

Pleasant and Profitable Lawn Party.

The lawn party at Mrs. Wooters', on Asheboro street, last night was a very pleasant affair. It was attended by a very good crowd. The ladies of Centenary Methodist church, under whose auspices it was given, realized something over $25.

He Was Admitted.

Fortunately when red tape comes in contact with common sense it is red tape which goes to the wall. A good story is told of a military official who devised a system which compelled every one who went on business to General Banks to procure a ticket from a member of the staff, the presentation of which at the door gained his admission. One day a burly colonel came to the door of the private office at headquarters and requested that his name be given to the general.

"Have you a ticket?" he was asked.

"You can't enter here without one," was the reply.

"Sir," said the colonel, "when General Banks becomes a puppet show, and I have 25 cents to spare, I'll buy a ticket to see him, not before." He was admitted.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed proposals will be received until Monday, September 24th, 1900, at 1 p. m. for the erection of the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company's new office building, at Greensboro, N. C., agreeable to plans and specifications by Hook and Sawyer, architects, Charlotte, N. C. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company, or at the office of the architects. All proposals should be addressed to the undersigned. The successful contractor must give a satisfactory bond. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

ADVERTISING AS CAPITAL.

A successful merchant says that when he first went into business his capital was strictly limited; but as he had observed that the men who advertised had the most trade, he resolved to set aside a part of his money for newspaper publicity. He is confident now that this amount was better placed than if it had been put into stock, and that in the long run it enabled him to invest more in his business than he could otherwise have done. "I would rather give up my display windows than my newspaper advertisements," he says.
